GENERAL MANAGER

CLIFF FLETCHER

It's generally agreed that Sam Pollock, former general manager of Montreal Canadiens, was one of the most dynamic, shrewd and aggressive individuals to ever hit the NHL.

Not surprisingly, Cliff Fletcher possesses and displays many of those same winning traits with which Pollock managed the mighty Montreal organization, and Team Canada 1976. But then, the 46-year-old Fletcher, who managed Team Canada '81, worked under Pollock for 10 seasons before signing on with St. Louis Blues as chief scout for eastern Canada in 1967.

Cliff assumed the assistant GM's job with the Blues in 1969, watching the club annually march into the playoffs and reach the Stanley Cup final three times.

When the Flames were born in '72, Cliff was front and centre, with the club stepping into the playoffs in only their second season, qualifying for post-season play the past six consecutive years and gaining the semi-finals last year.

He continues to seek the right people, however, who will bring home the Stanley Cup ring through player trades, security of drafts and innovative development techniques. His eye is not only on the present but on the future as seen in the current crop of promising young players throughout the system.

Cliff and wife "Boots" have two children, Chuck and Kristy. They reside in suburban Calgary.

ASST. GENERAL MANAGER

DAVID POILE

Go, go, go seems to have been the motto of 33-year-old David Poile ever since he left university to become Cliff Fletcher's right-hand man in the budding Flames' organization.

Last season, he not only carried out business as usual for the Flames but also supervised the Central League farm club, helped with scouting assignments and lent his expertise to the operations of the Junior Calgary Wranglers and New Westminster Bruins in the Western Hockey League.

David is a thoroughbred. His father, Norman "Bud" Poile, played six seasons in the NHL before getting into the coaching management end of the game with the PCHL Edmonton Flyers and San Francisco Seals and in the NHL with the Philadelphia Flyers and Vancouver Canucks and later as VP of the WHA and president of the Central League.

David's playing days centred around Northeastern University of Boston, which he attended on a hockey scholarship. He was a team captain and leading scorer twice, including an Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference leading total in his final year. Upon graduation, with a degree in Business Administration, he attended Vancouver Canucks' training camp but, fortunately for the Flames, elected to pursue the managerial side of professional hockey.

David, wife "Liz" and their two children, Brian and Lauren, make their year-round home in Calgary.

COACH

MacNEIL

Al MacNeil took a cautious outlook when the Flames moved to Calgary because he felt the team he had coached for one season lacked consistency.

Now, in his third year as head coach of the 1981 Stanley Cup semi-finalists and one of the most feared home teams in the league, Al suggests the club is entering the 1981-82 season on a "very optimistic note. We made some big strides last year and we'll build on that. Everyone knows hard work got us there."

Versatility, consistency and an honest night's work have always made up the criteria for playing on a MacNeil-coached team and it has proven successful ever since he hung up his blades after playing eight seasons in the NHL with Toronto, Montreal, Chicago, Pittsburgh and the New York Rangers.

His first coaching assignment was Houston Apollos of the Central Hockey League in 1968, then the Canadiens in December of 1970. While he wound up wearing a Stanley Cup ring in his NHL coaching debut, he returned to the Nova Scotia Voyageurs for the following six seasons as coach-manager, finishing first four times and winning three championship Calder Cups.

He also served as an assistant coach to Team Canada '76 before the Flames got his name on a contract early in 1979.

Al assisted Scotty Bowman with Team Canada '81 in this past fall's Canada Cup Tournament. The MacNeils — Al, wife Norma and children Allison and Allister live in Calgary, but spend their summers in Big Pond, Nova Scotia.

ASSISTANT COACH

PIERRE PAGÉ

It took the players about three months to finally settle on a suitable nickname for the man who someday may become known as one of the game's finest technicians.

'Pie R', as in Einstein's π r, seemed to fit Al MacNeils' new right-hand man to a 'T' as the former professor of physical education at Dalhousie University motivated new life in bodies and new ideas in minds with his off-ice training programs and ever-present chalkboard and electronic replay equipment.

A native of Lachute, Que. and the individual responsible for transforming Dalhousie's almost non-existent hockey program into one of respect and success between 1971 and 1980 when he joined old pal Al in Calgary, Pierre is innovative, efficient and proficient at improving a player's natural skills.

Dalhousie went from the basement to a No. 2 ranking in 1978-79 under Page's guidance, winning the Maritime conference championship for the first time in 60 years.

But, he gained his initial insight into the pro ranks when he assisted MacNeil at Halifax with the Voyageurs and could draw partial credit for the development of NHL players Mondou, Risebrough and Guy Chouinard.

His talents have not been overlooked. He was invited to work with the 1980 Canadian Olympic team and, then, with Team Canada '81 this past fall.

Pierre and wife Donna made their off-season home in Halifax.

ASST. COACH - PLAYER

BOB MURDOCH

No. 20

Defense

Born: Kirkland Lake, Ontario

Date: November 20, 1946

Height: 6-0

Weight: 190

Shoots: Right

Last Amateur Club: Canadian National Team

There isn't much the oldest member of the Flames (35, Nov. 20) hasn't seen, done or accomplished in 11 professional seasons. This season, however, presented "Mud" with the opportunity to work towards the coaching goal he set for himself long before he helped the Montreal Canadiens win a Stanley Cup in his rookie season of 1970-71.

Although the one-time member of Canada's National team is still primarily concerned with a playing role, he will be working more closely with the development of young defensemen in his other role of assistant coach. Bob, a solid family man with an equally strong rapport with his teammates, went to the Los Angeles Kings in May of '73 before being acquired by the Flames in a straight player exchange during January of '79.

He is not noted for his rushing ability, but he has good speed, a knack for feeding breakaway passes, and "Old Reliable" back of the blue line. A good defensive player, Bob enjoyed his most productive point season in 1974-75 with 13 goals and 42 points. He graduated from the University of Waterloo with degrees in mathematics and physical education.

Bob, his wife Doris and two children make their year-round home beside Silver Springs golf course in northwest Calgary.

TRAINER

JIM MURRAY

In the aesthetic world of ultra-sound, whirlpools, rubbing compounds, vitamin pills and gauze stands 47-year-old Jim Murray — a trainer for all seasons. 'Bearcat' or 'Bear' has been binding, sewing and cajoling football and hockey players even before he hung up his blades in the old senior Big Six League.

"Give me ultra-sound, a whirlpool, my hands and a bucket of ice and I can look after just about any ailment," says the native of nearby Okotoks, who can be found with his nose in a manual on sports medicine when he's not massaging a charliehorse or closing a cut.

'Bear' returned to Calgary in the early sixties after knocking around the oilfields of Saskatchewan. He rejoined the late Scotty Munro in 1967 when Munro transferred the Estevan Bruins to 'Cowtown'. Murray started out as a jack-of-all-trades that first season and wound up as trainer the following year. He honed his skills with the old Calgary Cowboys of the WHA and Calgary Stampeders of the CFL.

"The main principle of sports medicine is to keep an athlete playing without endangering his health," he submits. "But, it goes well beyond that. The treatment of injuries is a small part of the job. Nutrition and physical conditioning programs are equally important."

Jim, his wife Shirley and sons Allan and Danny make their home in Calgary. Allan is trainer for the Calgary Wranglers.

ASSISTANT TRAINER

BOBBY STEWART

If Bobby Stewart doesn't do his job right, it's going to be a mighty long night for the Flames. As the man in charge of sticks, tape, pucks, skates, pads, helmets, pants, sweaters and anything else you care to name, he has one of the most responsible positions on the team.

Bobby, known as 'Little Bear' to the players, has been with the Flames since their second season and around hockey rinks for the better part of his 31 years. He started lugging sticks when he was 15 years old for the Junior Canadiens, helped with the NHL Canadiens and eventually wound up in Atlanta with the Flames. Today he is both assistant trainer and equipment manager and 40 pairs of skates, 160 dozen sticks, 2,500 pucks, 3,000 rolls of tape are just part of his inventory. Probably the most demanding and time consuming part of his job begins after the game when he repacks equipment bags, gathers up the playing gear, jerseys and towels and dashes to the nearest washing machine. And it's doubly hectic when the Flames are on an extended road trip. It's often a thankless job but few seem to enjoy it more or do it as well — and always with a smile — as the Flames 'Little Bear'.

Bobby and his wife Sherri live in northwest Calgary.

HISTORY OF FRANCHISE

There was no doubt in anyone's mind that the hockey-weather atmosphere of Calgary probably would be good for the Flames of Atlanta but, no one could have forecast just how good snow in December would be for these orphans of the south.

Calgarians lined up en masse to purchase the 6,488 seats in the Corral and the National Hockey League's first 755 standing-room season tickets (capacity 7,243) and soon the Flames responded with a club-record shattering season en route to the Stanley Cup semi-finals.

From the moment Calgarian Hockey Hall-of-Fame Mervyn "Red" Dutton dropped the puck for Calgary's first NHL game Oct. 9, 1980 vs. Quebec Nordiques, it became clear the Flames liked their new cozy home with the small noisy crowd. Before it would end eight months later, the team that was born June 6, 1972 in Atlanta would erase 16 team records, including most points (92) in a season, most home goals (198), fewest home losses (five), most power-play goals (81) and most home points (50).

There were never really any lows at the Corral, soon to be replaced by an 18,000-seat Coliseum next door because the crowd was demanding and knowledgeable and the players knew they couldn't hide in this city of starved hockey fans. There could be no going through the motions, no giving up, and as the players responded the love affair blossomed until hockey was and is the talk of the town.

Of course, it was a bonus latching onto a reputable contender. This team had made the playoffs six of their eight previous seasons since Tom Cousins and a group of Atlanta businessmen had purchased the franchise and installed Cliff Fletcher as General Manager. But, attendance began to decline in the south despite the team's success. That's when Nelson Skalbania started making overtures to purchase.

Calgary was an obvious site despite its "small" rink. The fastest-growing city in North America had the money and the market to ensure financial success. Also a lot of people tired of being called down and run down by rival Edmonton and their many major league sports teams.

Now, Calgary has rallied behind the 'Flaming C' as it has few other teams and won't be totally satisfied until the Stanley Cup is paraded down Centre Street.

The only Flame to ever score 50 goals during the regular schedule jumped off to his quickest start last season in his fifth full year since earning promotion from Omaha Knights of the Central League (1974-75), then Nova Scotia Voyageurs of the American League (1975-76) ... one of the generals of Flames' power-play scored 14 goals in the club's first 21 games only to suffer a separated shoulder Nov. 26 when he slipped on the ice during a practice at Montreal Forum. It kept him out of the lineup until Jan. 23, a total of 26 games, but he returned with the same deadly accuracy and skillful ability that helped him establish a club record — six assists in an 11-4 win, Feb. 25, over N.Y. Islanders ... Flames' first pick in the 1974 amateur draft and the Central League's rookie-of-the-year during 1974-75, finished second in team scoring last year and tied defenseman Paul Reinhart for most assists (14) during the club's march to the Stanley Cup semi-finals.

The bilingual (French-English) glibness of Philadelphia Flyers' first-round draft choice in 1970 is topped only by his ability to kill penalties ... although 'Duke' can handle just about any assignment on the ice, in front of the television camera or behind the microphone, he is still considered to be one of the league's premier performers in shorthanded situations after 11 seasons of duty; and holds the club record of five shorthanded goals (1976-77) ... always a strong face-off man, Bill helped the Flyers win a couple of Stanley Cups before being traded to Washington Capitals during 1975-76. He was acquired 46 games later by the Flames in a two-for-one trade but represented the Caps in the '76 All-Star game and earned a second trip in 1978, when he was named co-most valuable player of the Flames ... a bookworm of sorts, he attended Carlton and Ottawa universities to obtain a degree in Management Science but he'll turn to a broadcasting career when he decides to hang up the blades.

Bill and his wife Jan reside in Bragg Creek.

When the Flames went looking for strength, size and speed for their blueline, they quickly remembered 'the big guy' who anchored Finland in both the 1979 World Championship at Moscow and the 1981 World Tournament in Sweden ... Kari, the object of more than one NHL club's attention, signed a multi-year contract with the Flames last June. He joins fellow countryman and rearguard, Pekka Rautakallio ... originally from Lahti, Finland, the 'big catch' spent the past three seasons with Leksland of the Swedish First Division and was nominated as one of the division's top defensemen last season ... General Manager Cliff Fletcher says he feels fortunate to have landed another talented Finn at a time when the trend of the game is heading more towards mobility and puck control. And, he adds, "We've enjoyed great success with European players in the past."

Kari is single.

They may never forget the University of New Hampshire's all-time assists and points leader in Quebec City, where he was nominated as Nordiques' candidate for the Masterton Trophy after his first season (1979-80) in the NHL ... those same skating, checking and shooting skills, however, were one big reason why the Flames dealt away veteran goaltender Dan Bouchard on Jan. 29, 1981 to acquire the eighth-round draft choice of Montreal Canadiens ... Jamie, the epitome of the very meaning of hustle and a versatile winger who can play either side as well as contribute to the penalty-killing team, made his debut with the Flames on Jan. 31, 1981 and fit right in with two assists in a 3-3 draw with Chicago Black Hawks ... although drafted in 1974, he remained in U.S. college ranks until Cincinnati of the old World Hockey Association enticed him into the professional ranks during the 1976-77 season. The Nordiques then claimed him as a free agent in 1979 but now he's in Calgary; as popular as ever.

Old reputations are never easy to discard but Randy took a giant step towards a new beginning upon his arrival in Calgary ... a role of a different sort was waiting for the man who had been called everything from a goon to Atilla and he played it to the hilt in winning respect for ability instead of fists ... 'Holty', who would make good copy for a book some day, assumed his familiar role as a defenseman but came to the fore when coach Al MacNeil shifted the little tiger to left wing. His biggest achievements arrived during the playoffs when he scored two goals, only the third and fourth of a checkered career, to launch Flames to victory over Chicago Black Hawks in preliminary playoff action and then 'shadow' Philadelphia's Paul Holmgren during a successful quarter-final series ... Randy was drafted by Chicago in the third round of '73, traded to the old Cleveland Barons in 1977, selected by Vancouver Canucks in the dispersal draft of '78, traded to Los Angeles Kings in December of the same year and obtained by the Flames during the summer of 1980 ... he still holds the Central League record for most penalty minutes (411 during 1974-75) and NHL single-game record of 67 minutes (March 11, 1979 vs. Philadelphia).

Randy, his wife Lynn and their three children live in S.W. Calgary.

Life was a continual uphill struggle for 'Doc' during the 1980-81 season as he battled a severe case of chronic hepatitis ... Flames' sixth-round draft pick in 1973 missed the first 35 games of the season because of the ailment that sapped his strength and, although he never could maintain full stride on a lengthy basis, his contributions were significant ... he scored 15 goals and as many assists upon his return and pumped in a leading five power-play goals during the playoffs ... Kenny, a devout follower of harness racing and an owner of a couple of pacers, is a no-nonsense player in the corners at either end of the rink and the 'immovable' force in front of the opposition goal ... although his most production season was 23 goals and 54 points in 1979-80, he scored the Flames' 1,000th goal on Dec. 3, 1976 and hopes to be around when No. 3,000 slides into the twine.

The speed of the red-headed Swede was known long before he was traded to the Flames during February of 1981 for minor-leaguer Earl Ingarfield and it was even more in evidence in the smallish atmosphere of the Corral ... the former Team Sweden performer in the 1976 Canada Cup and 1979 World Championships made his debut on Feb. 5, 1981 and five games later earned a standing ovation for a three-goal outing in a 4-4 draw with Buffalo Sabres ... Danny turned professional with Winnipeg Jets, then a member of the old WHA, in 1976 before signing with Detroit Red Wings as a free agent in June of 1978. The next season, he had his most productive year with 30 goals and 27 assists ... as with most Europeans, he prefers to play the off-wing, in the case a right-hand shot on the left side ... while he gave the Flames some added zip down the homestretch of the regular schedule, he missed the playoffs with a groin injury.

'Eddie Munster' emerged as the big surprise of the 1980 training camp by stepping directly out of junior into a lineup deep in experienced wingers ... hustle, a nose for the puck and a slapshot with sock convinced the coaching staff to keep one of the club's three second-round draft choices around, even though his playing time as an under-age would often be limited ... the little guy didn't disappoint, either, as he scored 15 goals and as many assists while learning to polish his defensive skills ... Kevin, prior to his 'arrival' in the NHL, spent two seasons with Brantford Alexanders of the OHA and enjoyed a particularly fine season in his draft year, scoring 65 goals and 135 points before banging in another 10 goals in 14 playoff games ... astute hockey people will tell you the little guy is Yvon Cournoyer reborn with shot capable of 50-goal seasons ... youngest regular on Flames ... celebrated 20th birthday September 16, 1981.

It didn't take the Corral fans long to start chanting 'Reggie, Reggie' after the 26-year-old goalie was summoned from Birmingham of the Central League, Nov. 21, 1980 to fill in for veteran Dan Bouchard ... he had only played 21 games in the NHL since being selected by Philadelphia Flyers in the sixth round of the 1974 draft when the Flames gave him the call for the third straight season and he literally kicked down the door of opportunity ... Rejean, who signed with the Flames as a free agent in August of 1978 after being named a first-team all-star with Philadelphia Firebirds of the American League, quickly earned a spot in the club's goaltending rotation ... a standup goalie with cat-quick reflexes, he went unbeaten in 17 regular season and two playoff games at the Corral, scoring two shutouts in the process and winning the Calgary media's vote as rookie-of-the year ... he broke a thumb Feb. 8, 1981 in a pre-game warmup but returned to the line-up 11 games later on March 4, 1981.

When you talk of toughness and durability, you talk of the Flames' top draft pick in 1978 ... 'Brador' or 'Baby Huey' has not missed a regular season game in the NHL since graduating from an illustrious junior career with London Knights of the OHA in 1977-78 ... a winner of the Max Kaminsky trophy as the OHA's outstanding defenseman (1977-78), Brad was appointed team captain last season at the tender age of 22 and quickly promoted a closer relationship among the players, in the dressing room and among their families after the game ... although not one of the quickest men afoot, Brad seldom gives up the puck once he wraps the leagues' biggest and heaviest stick around it and was recognized for his defensive prowess in 1979 when he was named to Team Canada for the World Championships.

Brad and his wife Caroline, a daughter of former Flame owner Tom Cousins, make their year-round home in Calgary.

Think of any hockey skill and Flames' fourth-round draft choice of 1976 will magically perform it ... 'Kenta' as he's known to his teammates or 'Magic' as he's called by hockey crowds, set six team records and equalled two others last season ... about the only mark to escape the WHA's rookie-of-the-year (1977-78) in his march to third place in the NHL scoring race last season was 50 goals, falling just one shy ... Kent was reclaimed by the Flames from Winnipeg Jets in the expansion draft of June 1979 and has been the offensive leader ever since ... goaltenders will tell you he has the hardest slapshot of any European in the league and an equally wicked wrist shot ... he has played in the past two NHL all-star games and for Team Sweden in last fall's Canada Cup ... in becoming the first European-born and trained player to break the 100-point barrier last year, Kent scored 20 power play goals, started the scoring in 14 games and had back-to-back hat-tricks in being runner-up to Wayne Gretzky in second-half scoring derby.

Kent and his wife Berit have a home in southwest Calgary but spend most of the off-season in Sweden.

Flames' coaching staff didn't know what to do with their fourth round pick of 1979, because the big fellow played all three forward positions just as well as he did his natural position of right wing ... 'Pep' or 'Niatross' was definitely a player, though, and eventually wound up at center, where he scored 13 goals and 38 points. One of four Flames (Nilsson, Marsh, Russell the others) who pleyed in all 80 league games last season ... big, fast and tough are the most noticeable traits of the former captain of the OHA's Toronto Marlboros when he's on the ice ... big, friendly and witty are his attributes off the ice when he's either working up a concoction in his kitchen or being a Big Brother ... he also likes practical jokes, tennis, boating and water skiing.

It's a long way from Paraguay to the NHL but it was no more than an average-sized step for big Willi Plett ... drafted in the fifth round of 1975, he helped Tulsa Oilers win the Central League championship that season before playing 64 games with Flames during 1976-77, enough to win the Calder Trophy as rookie-of-the-year ... one of the league's most feared players, Willi marked his finest offensive season last year with 38 goals (team record for right winger) and 68 points ... the Corral crowd favorite also upped his team record penalty-minute total for a single season to 237 minutes and was just as forceful in the playoffs, drawing a one-game suspension in the quarter-finals against Philadelphia Flyers ... nevertheless, he shared the team playoff scoring lead with Bob MacMillan at eight goals and scored a leading five power-play goals ... one of two South American-born players (the other being Rich Chartrow) he has only been below the 20-goal plateau once in five seasons and is currently considered to be one of the best 'screens' for a power-play in the league.

'Rhino' was Flames first pick in 1979, an under-age with four seasons under his belt with Kitchener Rangers of the OHA and a leading candidate for Canada's 1980 Olympic team ... although a center in his final year of junior, he made the transition to defense with little difficulty in his rookie year and showed even more cleverness at the position last year ... doubled his output to a team record 18 goals last year and also set team records for most assists (49) and points (67) by a defenseman ... a stocky individual with good puck sense and rushing ability, Paul collected 14 assists in the playoffs and was chosen for Team Canada in this past fall's Canada Cup series ... missed six games last year with injuries.

THE MOLSON CUP

The Molson Cup three stars evolved from one of NHL hockey's oldest traditions ... the selection at game's end of the three players judged most valuable in a particular contest. The Molson Cup was born to add substance to the star selections, to reward consistently high levels of performance and to recognize major contributions to the team's success over an entire season.

This will be the second season The Molson Cup will be awarded to the Calgary Flames player who achieves the greatest number of points from these three star selections. Players from the Flames will be awarded five points every time they are chosen as a star by a media selection panel of a regular season game. The contest is divided into five segments: October and November/December/January/February/ March and April. Cash awards will be presented following each segment of the contest.

The first and second place finishers in these segments will receive $1,000.00 and $500.00 respectively.

The overall winner will be awarded the prestigious Molson Cup along with a check for $1,000.00. The overall runner-up will receive $500.00. For all five segments, as well as the final standing, any ties for first or second place will be decided by choosing the player with the greatest number of first star selections.

Kent Nilsson was the first Calgary Flames player to win the prestigious Molson Cup. Rejean Lemelin finished second. Nilsson had 95 points, Lemelin 65, and they were followed by Pat Riggin and Guy Chouinard, each with 60 points. Nilsson won $1,000.00 for finishing first overall and $1,000.00 for winning the Third and Fifth Segments, for a grand total of $3,000.00. Lemelin won $500.00 for being runner-up and $1,000.00 for winning the Second Segment. Riggin won the First Segment, Chouinard the Fourth Segment.

NHL'S NEW LOOK

The National Hockey League embarks upon its 65th regular season with a new look in terms of Conference and Divisional alignment and an unbalanced schedule that will focus attention upon some of the greatest rivalries in sport.

Following are the Conferences and Divisions for 1981-82:

CLARENCE CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

SMYTHE DIVISION

Calgary Flames
Colorado Rockies
Edmonton Oilers
Los Angeles Kings
Vancouver Canucks

NORRIS DIVISION

Chicago Black Hawks
Detroit Red Wings
Minnesota North Stars
St. Louis Blues
Toronto Maple Leafs
Winnipeg Jets

PRINCE OF WALES CONFERENCE

PATRICK DIVISION

New York Islanders
New York Rangers
Philadelphia Flyers
Pittsburgh Penguins
Washington Capitals

ADAMS DIVISION

Boston Bruins
Buffalo Sabres
Hartford Whalers
Montreal Canadiens
Quebec Nordiques

UNBALANCED SCHEDULE:

Each of the 21 teams will play an 80-game schedule with those teams in the Smythe, Patrick and Adams Divisions having eight games (four home, four away) against each of their Divisional opponents, plus three games against each of the remaining 16 teams in the League. In the case of the three games against the remaining clubs, teams will play two home, one away or vice-versa, alternating the extra home game each year.

The six clubs in the Norris Division — Chicago, Detroit, Minnesota, St. Louis, Toronto and Winnipeg — will play each other seven times with three games against each of the remaining 15 teams. The home ice differential will be alternated each season.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS FORMAT:

At the conclusion of the regular schedule, the top four finishers in each of the Divisions will qualify for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The preliminary round features divisional playoffs that will have the first place club oppose the fourth place team and second versus third in a best-of-five series. The winners of each series will remain in the division and play a best-of-seven quarter final round with the team gaining higher standing during the regular-season holding home ice advantage.

The four divisional winners will meet in a best-of-seven semi final round. The Smythe Division winner will face the Norris Division champion, while the Patrick Division victor will oppose the Adams Division winner. The Conference winners will meet in a best-of-seven final series for the Stanley Cup.

Home ice advantage for the semi-final and final rounds will be alternated each season according to Division and Conference.
